THE SKIDOO PROBLEM

A coin collector had an accumulation of pennies. He told his son he would make him a present of the entire lot if he would put them in boxes, the same number in each box:

There was an odd number of pennies so that if he put an equal number in each of two boxes, there would be one penny left over; in a like manner he figured on 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15,

16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, and 22 boxes, but in every case if he put an equal number in each box there would be one (only one) penny left over.

The son gave it up and told his father:

"SKIDOO—23 for you."

The son then put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes.

How many pennies were there?

To make the problem plain: The entire number of pennies was a number, which if divided by any number from 2 to 22 inclusive there will be a remainder of one (only one), and if divided by 23 there will be no remainder.

Address all answers to PUZZLE EDITOR.

Copyright 1906 by C. Kelly, Chicago.

500 new pennies will be given to the person who sends in the most skillfully worded correct solution to the problem. 23 pennies will be given to the five other contestants whose solutions are considered by the judges to be the next most ingenious. Skidoo pins will be given to the other contestants whose solutions are considered unusually cleverly worded out.

The "Skidoo" fever has caught, in fact, it is growing hot.

Answers to the problem are coming in thick and fast.

Figures from a few cents up into the septillions are given as solutions. What do you think is the correct answer?

Send answers as often and as many of them as you please;

Write on one side of the paper only in sending your answer and if sealed and mailed use 2c postage.

A Few More Answers That Have Been Received.

She Gets 23.

The Skidoo problem. If I had 23 pennies and 23 boxes, I would put one in each box and then have the same number in each box, and if I divided by two I would have one for a remainder; also if I divided by twenty-two, I would have a remainder of only one, so the correct answer I think would be 23 pennies. Let me know if this is your answer.

KATHERINE SCHREINER.

Thinks 46 it is.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 5, 1906.

Puzzle Editor: I have read your

"Skidoo Problem" and think that I have a correct answer. My answer is as follows: If you take 46 pennies and put them in boxes, having an equal number in each one, there will be 23 boxes and 2 pennies in each box.

EDWARD LOWE.

How's This.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 5, 1906.

Dear Puzzle Editor:

Skidoo number twenty-three.

I've solved the problem, don't you see?

And now I'll tell you how it's done.

First multiply 2 by 3 is the way I do it.

C. KELLY, CHICAGO.

And 4 by 6 and 5 by 24 is the right way.

WILL WATCH NEWS
OF THE ELECTIONGAZETTE WILL FLASH RETURNS
ON A BIG CANVAS TONIGHT.

VOTE IS TO BE VERY LIGHT

Particular interest in different localities will be given particular attention.

This evening the Gazette will flash the election returns from city, county, state and a general resume of the forty-two states which hold elections today on a big canvas opposite the office on North Main street. Special interest is also in the choice of assemblyman in the third assembly district of Rock county where Simon Smith and William Lathers are contesting for the honor and in the district attorneyship fight where strenuous efforts are being made to defeat the republican nominee John L. Fisher. H. H. Blanchard being used as a decoy to draw votes away from Fisher for Hendrick the democratic nominee.

In the State.

Davidson, Connor and the entire republican state ticket will be elected, the majority being the only matter in question. Cooper, Babcock, Nelson in the first, second and third districts are sure of safe majorities and there is but little contest for congressmen in the rest of the state. The only really bitter fight is that of district attorney in Milwaukee between Boden, republican, and McGovern, independent. Boden will probably win but by a narrow margin.

Outside.

Of the outside states New York leads in interest and returns from this state will be watched with interest.

Hughes will with all probability have an immense majority although the Hearst managers claim his election.

Pennsylvania is next of interest where a fight is being made against the old Pennsylvania machine by the Lincoln republicans with a fair hope of success. Tennessee with a possible republican governor, H. Clay

Evans, Colorado, where a bitter fight is being waged and Idaho where the possibility of a republican victory is probable are other battle grounds that will be watched. Chicago also has a battle royal that is close at home and these and other interesting bits of election gossip will be thrown on the canvas at the Gazette office tonight.

By Associated Press.

The general election returns will be furnished by the Associated Press

while a special correspondent in Milwaukee watches the state news.

Sixty-nine correspondents throughout the county will telephone the returns as soon as counted and they will be given the public as fast as procured.

Owing to the fact this requires considerable room for working no one will be admitted to the editorial rooms this evening. Every result will be shown on the big canvas.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, November 6, 1886.—The Election in the City.—At 3 o'clock we visited the polls and round the vote then cast to be as follows:

1st Ward, 318; 2d Ward, 299; 3d Ward, 133; 4th Ward, 293.

The vote is rather light though it is fair. The indications seem to be that Norcross is elected by a fair majority.

Election Returns.

There very naturally will be intense interest to hear from the election this evening and arrangements have accordingly been made for special dispatches. The "rooms" of the Gazette office being too limited to accommodate those who will be anxious to hear the news. Lappin's hall has been engaged and will be open to the public.

Good Thing on Patterson.—On Saturday evening three candidates were addressing an audience of republicans in a town in this county. Two gentlemen had already spoken and after they had concluded their addresses Mr. Patterson arose and spoke at some length and until a rather late hour. As is common with political speakers, he finally said he would not detain them longer. Upon this a gentleman with a soldier's overcoat arose and said, "Go on, Mr. Patterson, go on. We are almost all soldiers here, and can endure a great deal."

Recovered His Team.—Mr. C. T. Wilcox reached home today from Iowa, where he has been in pursuit of a double team that was stolen from him a week ago Sunday, by a fellow named Hahn. He found his property at the town of Andrew, Jones county. The thief had sold the horses, buggy and harness. Unfortunately Mr. Wilcox did not find the rascal as he stole another team at Maquoketa and left fifty-six hours ahead. The sheriff of that county informed Mr. W. that there were eleven stolen horses at Wyoming and two at Dunleith, and three men had been arrested and lodged in jail.

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and failing, or other displacement of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drawing from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

Many consider the number of the above symptoms are present there is not remedy that will give quick relief or a more permanent than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cure. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glycerine extract of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle, it is a safe and tested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Prescription has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials, though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine or tincture for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the doctor may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his, and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute.

You know what you want and it is business to supply the article called for.

THE DIFFERENCE

Dexter Marshall, the London correspondent of the "American Economist," furnishes some statistics on wage conditions in England, which are of interest. The figures are compiled by the Board of Trade, one of the most important departments of the English government.

It publishes a monthly periodical entitled "The Labor Gazette," which must be very consoling to English working people, as it shows by comparison how much better off is the American artisan.

The facts regarding work and wages which follow are largely drawn from the statistics gathered and furnished by the Board of Trade. Others are furnished by the trade unions and Mr. A. L. Bowley, the eminent economist and statistician.

The average weekly earnings of adult males in the United Kingdom are 24 shillings 9 pence, or about $3.00 a year. Of men, women, boys and girls combined it is 17 shillings, 6 pence weekly, or about $1.16 yearly. Servants, home workers and others earning patry wages are not included so that these figures are really high. The average weekly wage of the London artisan is $9.70; of the country artisan, $8.20. The weekly average for the London laborer is $6.05; for the country or agricultural laborer, $3.00.

The union scale for compositors on London morning papers is $11.52 weekly; on evening papers, $10.42. In Liverpool and Manchester it is $8.52, and in Scotland and the country it is $5.10. The schedule for piece work is 15 cents per 1000 lines. (The "en" is counted here, not the "em" as in the United States.) Compositors work largely on piece work; however, instead of drawing the weekly stated sum, and the Board of Trade's latest return gives their average actual weekly earnings in London as $9.16 and in the country $8.08.

Wages in the big groups, the textile, building, mining, iron and steel industries, fluctuate only a few cents a week from year to year and from season to season.

Here are the wages paid to textile workers at the big mills in Lancashire and Yorkshire. Weavers (girls) average $3.04 weekly; Throttle-spinners, $1.86 weekly; plierers, $2.92; spinners, from $9.18 to $10.55; machinists and factory mechanics, average $5.02.

In the building trades, carpenters, joiners and bricklayers work fifty hours a week in summer and forty-four in winter at average wages of $10.50 in London and $7.26 in the country. The union rates are 20 cents an hour, but employers, as in other lines of trade, frequently give a bonus. Painters at 17 to 18 cents an hour average $5.64 weekly in London, and $8.41 in the country. Masons average $10.50 in London and $9.42 in the country. Plumbers at 22½ cents an hour average in London $10.34, and the country $9.18. Plasterers average $10.90 for London and for the country $9.42.

The average weekly pay of the coal miner is $5.95 a week, from four and one-half to five and one-half days, at nine and one-half hours. Lancashire, as in all other matters, pays the biggest wage, which averages $1.05 daily. Scotland, in the Lanark district, pays the lowest—an average of $1.36 a day. In Wales the pay averages $1.56 and in Durham and Stagardshire $1.44.

The following are the average weekly wages per week in the metal trades—the first named figure being that prevailing in the country, and the last named referring to London: Fitters, $5.40 to $9.12; turners, the same; millwrights, $8.64 to $9.60; smiths, $8.64 to $9.12; pattern makers, $8.88 to $10.05; brass, moudlers and finishers and joiners, $8.64; boiler makers, $8.16 to $9.70; smith's helpers, $5.76; laborers, $5.04.

The figures in some other important trades are: Cabinet makers, $3.52 to $10.35; upholsterers, $8.00 to $10.56; wood turners, $8.45 to $9.12, and cooperers, $8.64 to $10.18.

With regard to the wages of butchers, bakers, barbers, etc., it is hard to get reliable data for a reason that does not exist in the United States. For hundreds of years the apprenticeship system has prevailed in England under which the employees of a tradesman or merchant lived with the family, or at least on the business premises. The apprentice system has largely died a natural death here, but the living in London department stores and the big dry-goods stores, with their thousands of salesmen, sales women, clerks, boys, and girls and other employees, continue the ancient system and board and lodge their employees practically on their premises. These firms have whole terraces of houses as close to their stores as possible. Males and females live on different streets. There are almost as strict rules in force relating to meals, hours for rising, bed, and going out, as in the old apprentice days.

And not alone the big stores, but the master who employs one, two or three men, in his bakery, grocery, butcher shop, or hair dressing parlor, usually boards and lodges the men and the girl clerks; so that it is extremely difficult to estimate correctly the wages of this class of working people.

The letter also contains a schedule of prices on the cost of living, which goes to show that by the most rigid economy a skilled workman might save from $15 to $20 a year.

These are the conditions which exist in free-trade England: The protective tariff may encourage capital, as it does, but it also protects labor and the party that stands pat on this proposition is the best friend that American labor has.

People who denounce corporations will do well to remember that 82 per cent of the industries of the country are controlled and managed by corporations. These industries are too large for individual ownership, and combined wealth is always represented by a corporation. They are the life blood of the country and as a rule are honestly managed.

We Kill the Torturing Demon

VOTE WAS SMALL UP TO ONE TODAY

MANY HAD FAILED TO REGISTER ACCORDING TO LAW.

TICKETS ARE BEING SPLIT

Less Than Seven Hundred Had Voted Up to One in Whole City—Lack of Interest.

Either Janesville, politicians are lacking in energy or Janesville voters are blase but the figures given out at the polling places at one o'clock show that a large number of citizens have failed to exert the rights of suffrage by casting their ballot. In some cases failure to register was responsible for being turned away but the murky morning and entire "don't care" attitude of the citizens generally are responsible for this condition of affairs.

Vote by Machines.

The voting today is being conducted by machines and the results should be known almost as soon as the polls close tonight. Special messengers will bring these results to the Gazette where they will be made public on the big canvas that is to be used for this purpose. In some of the wards the voters appear to be taking their time at the machines which means the tickets are being split. The fight on the district attorneyship question is the only one that appears to have any spirit.

The Vote Itself.

The total vote at one this year was 681 as compared with 1,911 in 1904 and 1,334 in 1902. The vote according to wards for the three years is as follows:

Ward	1902	1904	1906
First	277	181	159
Second	198	301	117
Third	357	451	200
Fourth	346	431	148
Fifth	186	260	57

Vote in Beloit.

Reports from Beloit show that the vote there is also very light, even lighter than it was on primary day. Advices from other portions of the county are similar and the results to-night it is expected will fall short of the usual good Rock county majority.

Review Of 1906 Baseball

The World's Champion
Chicago Americans and Their Leader.

Greatest of All Diamond Seasons—Record-Breaking Receipts.

Button, button, who's got the world's championship?

That was the game played by the two Chicago major-league ball teams, and when the Americans won the title they rose to the top of the greatest of all baseball seasons.

More money was spent on baseball in 1906 than in any other year.

More players took part in the game in 1906 than ever before.

Thousands more people witnessed the games of 1906 than of any other year.

The world's championship series of 1906 furnished more surprises than that of any other year.

Davy Jones, captain, manager and center fielder of the Chicago Americans, has reason to be the proudest man on the baseball earth.

Early in the season his team could well have been termed "the great unknowns."

But today—well, King Edward and his "bedlammed" court, the ameet of Chazooz and his thirteen head choppers, the mighty hasheesh of Booz and his chief of the income tax collectors are but pygmies in comparison to the killer of the Giant killers, Jones, and his warlike tribe.

Aside from the sensational work of the Americans' pitching staff, the exploits of Shortstop Röhe, who took the place of George Davis owing to the latter's illness, and the feats of Second Baseman Isbell, none with surpassing brilliancy. In addition to phenomenal fielding in the world's championship series, the batting of these men was overpowering.

The stick work of Isbell and Röhe practically won three of the games out-SHORTSTOP RÖHE, CHICAGO AMERICANS, right for the White Sox. Röhe made seven hits in the six games; Isbell made eight, four in one game. Röhe made two three-base hits and two two-baggers in the final series; Isbell made four two-base hits.

Steinleit, who was one of the best batters in the National league, did not sue except in one game.

Manager Chance erred when he failed to place confidence in his Oval Overall, who went in the last two games for the Cubs and pitched grand ball after both contests were lost. If Overall had started in the last game he would have been a winner very likely.

Altrock was the only pitcher on either team who pitched good ball in two full games. Ruebach was a big favorite after his victory over White. He, too, fell by the wayside two days later and fizzled out as a leading factor.

It was a well-pitched set of games at that. The experts can hardly account for the great hitting of the Sox, but it did appear that the American league team gained confidence each day, while the Cubs adopted defensive tactics more and more each game.

"Nothing easier. Go to Mr. Barnes and make a clean breast of all that you know."

"But that is betraying you to the police."

"No; Mr. Barnes is not the police. He is only a private detective. If you remember, he is the very one about whom we were talking when the wager was made. You were boasting of his skill. It should satisfy you then to have him on my track, and it will satisfy me if you agree to talk with no other. Is it a bargain?"

"Yes, since you are willing. I must tell some one in authority. It is impossible for me to withhold what may be the means of detecting a criminal."

Mr. Randolph, upon leaving the hotel, went in search of Mr. Barnes. Meanwhile that gentleman was holding a conversation with Wilson.

"You say," said the detective, "that Mr. Mitchel gave you the slip again yesterday afternoon?"

"Yes; he doubled so often on his tracks on the elevated road that at last he eluded me, getting on a train which I failed to board. You see, it was impossible to tell, till the moment of starting, whether he would take the train or not. He would mix with the crowd and seem anxious to get on, and then at the last moment step back. I had to imitate him at the other end of the couch, and finally he got on just as the guard at my end slammed the gates."

"This was at Forty-second street?"

"Yes; he took the down train."

"Did he notice you in my way?"

"I suppose so, but no one would have guessed it. He appeared entirely ignorant of the fact that he was followed, so far as watching me was concerned."

"You are not to blame. Go back to his hotel and do the best you can. Leave the rest to me. I will discover where it is he goes on these mysterious trips."

Left to himself Mr. Barnes thought this over:

"Wilson is no match for Mr. Mitchel. That is evident. I wonder whether there is any real object in this game of hide and seek, or whether it is simply an imitation to me that he cannot be shamed. If the latter—well, we shall see. Now let me think about those jewels found in New Haven. They tally exactly with the description. Their discovery complicates the case considerably. I had almost concluded that those in the safety vaults were the ones stolen and that there is any real object in this game of hide and seek, or whether it is simply an imitation to me that he cannot be shamed. BOTH SIDES CLAIM CONTROL OF HOUSE

DEMOCRATS SAY THEY WILL HAVE MAJORITY OF 22.

REPUBLICANS HOLD TO 50

Cutting Off of Passes Allows Fewer Employees to Go to Their Homes to Cast Ballots on Day of Election.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The campaign in 42 states for the election of the Sixtieth congress passed into history Monday night. Besides the congressional balloting, 23 states elected governors, Arizona and New Mexico voted a joint statehood; Oklahoma and the Indian Territory adopted a state constitution and 20 states chose legislatures, which in turn will elect United States senators.

The United States weather bureau predicted fair weather for election day throughout the east, middle, west and south, with moderate temperature rain in Minnesota and the Dakotas, and cold and snow in Wyoming, Montana and the interior of Washington and Oregon.

Roosevelt Gave to Vote.

President Roosevelt, who yearly sets the example of good citizenship by going from Washington to Oyster Bay to cast his vote, left the White House on this pilgrimage at midnight. He returned Tuesday. Arrangements have been made as usual to keep him posted at the White House of the election returns.

Most of the members of the cabinet have done strenuous work and several of them found it convenient to be at their homes to vote.

No Passes for Employees.

From all reports, however, fewer voters have gone from Washington to vote than in any congressional year for a decade. This is owing largely to the fact that free transportation has been cut off and that election rates on the railroads are higher than they have been before. The single exception to this rule is the case of New York voters. Considering the expense, a remarkably large number of Empire state voters residing in Washington went home to vote.

Claims of Rival Factions.

The congressional predictions by the Republican and Democratic congressional committees with headquarters respectively in New York and Washington remain the same as the "finals" announced a few days ago. The Republicans claim the next house by 50, the Democrats claim it by 22.

New York maintained her position in the limelight of public interest and the campaign there was kept up until the last possible moment. Both state committees claim the state for their candidate by large pluralities. Reports from other sections of the country indicate alternately apathy and interest.

SUGGESTS HOLIDAY.

Anniversary of Sailing of British Ships from England for Virginia.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretary Bonaparte has received a letter from Mr. N. Darnell Davis, auditor general of British Gulana, calling attention to the date of December 19, 1906, as being the 300th anniversary of the sailing of the Sara Constant, Godspeed and Discovery from Blackwall, England, for Virginia, being the inception of English colonial enterprise of the United States.

Mr. Davis suggests that in commemoration of the event all the vessels of the United States navy, whether at sea or in port, shall "dress ship" on that occasion.

Mr. Davis has already made the suggestion in English newspapers that Great Britain recognize the birth of its "oldest daughter" by a similar action on board the British vessels of war.

American Laborers for Canal.

Washington, Nov. 6.—In October the Isthmian canal commission sent 364 additional skilled American laborers to the canal zone. Of this number 332 are employed by the construction and engineering department in various sorts of mechanical work. Carpenters were more numerous than any other tradesmen, 85 of them having been sent. The machinists numbered 52 and the plumbers 17.

New Cemetery Superintendent.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Harrison C. Magoon, since 1894 superintendent of the national cemetery at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., has been ordered to this city to assume the duties of the superintendent of the national cemetery at Arlington, Vice Capt. Drum, deceased. Mr. Magoon is a veteran of the civil war.

Dead at Age of 102.

Findlay, O., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Anna Deppew, one of the "oldest" residents of Ohio, died Monday at her home in Wharton. Her age was 102 years and she has been a resident of Wyandot county for the last half century. She was distantly related to Senator Deppew.

Landscape Paper Dated.

Christiania, Nov. 6.—The death is announced at Voedam, Holland, of Fritz Thaulow, the Norwegian landscape painter.

A desperate fight took place in the center of Portland, Me., at midnight between four highwaymen and three street railway conductors.

HERING ADMITS HIS GUILT

CHICAGO CASHIER GIVEN INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.

Will Serve From One to Fourteen Years for Part in Looting State Bank.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Henry W. Hering, former cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, pleaded guilty to forgery and embezzlement in Judge Pinekney's court Monday afternoon and was sentenced to the penitentiary. His term for forgery will be from one to 14 years under the indeterminate sentence act, and for embezzlement from one to ten years. The court announced the sentences would run concurrently.

Hering will not be sent to Joliet at once, State's Attorney Healy announced. He will be held to become a witness before the next grand jury. This is believed to mean more indictments in connection with the looting of the bank.

He will also be a witness against Walter Frantzen, who, as teller of the savings department, stole $88,000, and against the directors who are under indictment.

His sentence to prison came at the end of dramatic stories of the wrecking of the bank told by both Paul O. Stensland, former president, and by Hering.

At the same time, it was said about the criminal court building that Mrs. Hering had decided to obtain a divorce, declaring that she would not stand by her husband unless he established his innocence.

BANK AT LA SALLE, ILL., ROBBED

Two Bandits Secure $7,000 From Cashier and Escape.

La Salle, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Farmers and Miners bank of Ladd, a mining town, was held up and robbed Monday afternoon.

The assistant cashier, J. J. Hurley was alone in the bank when two men entered and asked for some pennies.

The next moment, covering Mr. Hurley with revolvers, they ordered him to throw up his hands.

The robbers then marched Hurley to a back room, where they bound him hand and foot.

The robbers then helped themselves to cash and escaped. They left $130 in gold besides a quantity of silver on the bank counter and disturbed little in the vault.

The amount of their booty will be about $7,000 as near as the bank officers were able to estimate the loss.

Ladd was thrown into a state of excitement by the daring hold-up. One of the two masked robbers guarded the street door while the other scooped up the cash. Some reports say that the amount stolen is $20,000. It was mostly in currency.

The robbers had been gone an hour when the robbery was discovered and the imprisoned bank officer released.

The robbers hired a livery rig at Peru to drive to Ladd. In about three hours they came back and returned the rig to Liveryman Denny, who, having heard of the hold-up, tried to procure the assistance of citizens to surround the robbers in the livery stable, but the robbers drew revolvers and shot at everyone who appeared near the stable.

The robbers slipped from the stable and kept up a running fight for an hour, finally escaping in the direction of La Salle after eluding the Peru police.

A Reason.

Wright—Haven't sold those crazy verses yet, I suppose?

Peacock—Yes, I have.

You don't mean it?

Yes, I do; and I'll tell you a funny thing about it. There were only 20 lines and the editor paid me for 40.

That accounts for it. The editor was seeing double the day he bought 'em.

Tossed.

Bubley has an auto now and he doesn't seem to do anything else but chase around the country in it.

Yes, he's very strongly attached to his machine, and—

He wasn't the last time I saw him on the road. He was about 20 feet above it.

SPAIN IS BUILDING AN UP-TO-DATE NAVY

All of the New Warships—Adopts American Improvements in Construction.

London, Nov. 6.—Spain is making rapid progress with the rebuilding of her navy. The expenditure of about $70,000,000, authorized by the Cortes last year, is being laid out to cover a construction program of six years. It comprises eight 14,000-ton battleships, nine cruisers, and several smaller vessels. Half the ships must be built in Spanish yards, and besides the construction now under way, a complete reorganization and equipment of the arsenals, docks and yards at Ferrol, Cadiz and Cartagena has been undertaken. King Alfonso is an active partisan of the navy and gives every encouragement to that branch of the government.

Among other vessels now building are the Emperador Carlos V., a protected cruiser of 10,000 tons, three battleships, Cardinal, Cisneros, Catoloma and Princesa de Asturias and the protected cruiser Reina Regente. A contract which has just been signed in London for electrical power doors for the Reina Regente now nearing completion at Ferrol shows that Spain intends to make her new warships "as up-to-date" as possible. Old style bulkhead doors had been provided for, but when the authorities found out about the new method of closing watertight doors by electricity a change was promptly made. These power doors, known as the "Long Arm" system, are the invention of an American naval officer and are installed on nearly all the new ships of the United States navy. The object is to make ships unsinkable by providing them means of closing off their important bulkheads in time of emergency from an electric at central station located above decks.

According to the latest information, Spain has in commission 3, second class battleships, 4 armored cruisers, 33 second and third class cruisers, 3 sea-going gunboats, 30 river gunboats, 5 destroyers, 13 torpedo boats and 29 miscellaneous vessels. By the time the program now being carried out is completed, she will have brought her navy up to such formidable proportions that it will have to be considered as an important factor in the balance of European sea power.

Princess of the Napkin.

The exiled nobleman as a waiter appears to possess many advantages.

"They make much better waiters than the ordinary applicants for those posts," said the manager of a Fifth Avenue restaurant, "because they know what a gentleman wants and how he wants it. They are usually quicker and quieter than the ordinary waiter. None that I ever knew rose to any importance because they only stuck to the work long enough to accumulate a little capital. Then they go west. Many of them go straight through Chicago when they arrive here. It's farther off and they are less likely to meet their countrymen. Chicago swarms with titled waiters of nearly every nationality."

"BREAKFAST FACE" A FRIGHT.

First Meal of the Day in England Cannot Be a Pleasant One.

An observant writer in Health says: "The woman who spends her every afternoon on visits to friends is bound to develop the 'tea face.' The tea face is frozen vivacity. The eyes have an uninterrupted sparkle, the head has a permanent sudden tilt of interest and expectancy, while the smile looks as if it had been done up in curl-papers overnight."

One knows that face. It is preferable, however, to the breakfast face. The breakfast face is washed vacuity. The eyes have the sparkle of cold lead, the head has a weary droop and an unwillingness to turn either direction, while the scowl looks as if it had been left out in the rain all night.

By the way, I speak merely from memory. Since the day of my emancipation, some eight years ago, I have carefully avoided that pleasant, cheery, chatty, timables-and-toast-bills-and-bacon function known euphemistically as the English "breakfast."

It is only fair to add that, to the best of my knowledge, I have never been missed. Nobody ever is missed from the English breakfast table.—London Sketch.

CLEAN MONEY HER HOBBY.

Young Woman Had Distinct Prejudice Against Soiled Bills.

She stopped in front of the payling teller's window and produced a wad of soiled bills.

"Would you kindly exchange these notes for clean ones?" she asked, in response to his polite inquiry as to what he could do for her.

"Why, yes, madam, certainly. You are afraid of the disease germs, I suppose," he remarked as he counted out the amount in new greenbacks and pushed them over the little brass door.

"No, not exactly," she smiled. "It is simply a case of habit. Before I married I had experience in the bank business as a working woman, and, like all in the work, I acquired a love of fresh bills. I positively refused to handle anything soiled or worn. It is one of the few things I have had to regret in married life. The tradesmen will give one that kind of tainted money in making change, usually they have nothing else in the cash drawer. As soon as I can possibly do so, I hurry to the nearest bank and get clean ones. They are lovely; they smell quite like old times. Thank you so much. Good morning."
